AYC Seeks YMCA Tie

Fred H. Harrison, president of the Andover Youth Center, announces that the board of directors of that organization has formally voted to apply to the national board of the Young Men's Christian Assn. for acceptance as a member association operating as a branch of the Lawrence YMCA. First steps have already been taken toward solving legal problems related to the change, which is endorsed by the United Fund of Greater Lawrence.

AYC directors first considered YMCA affiliation last spring and at that time asked the Lawrence YMCA for the loan of an experienced staff member to serve as a full-time director of the Youth Center for one program year. Following this experimental period, a decision was to be made. The Lawrence "Y" responded by creating a new staff position associate general secretary for extension services and named veteran physical director Dick Cate to the post, commissioning him to develop a YMCA program in Andover with the AYC as headquarters.

School and school building officials toured the new senior high school on Saturday to observe progress and give the School Committee its first look at the building in its near-completion state.

During the tour, Building Chairman Robert B. McIntyre and Manager Richard Bowen told school officials that they feel a maintenance superintendent should be assigned to the building by Nov. 1 so that he could become familiar with the layout and procedures well in advance of the opening. It was agreed also that other custodians for the building should also be hired in advance of the completion date.

Bids for construction of a 40-unit addition to Chestnut Court housing project for the elderly are to be received by the Andover Housing Authority by Nov. 16. Bids from sub-contractors are due a week earlier.

As the result of a compromise between local and state housing authorities, bids will be taken for both electric and gas heating installations. The project has been delayed for some weeks because the local board favored the use of electric heat and the state authority which oversees and finances such projects, was insisting on the use of gas heat.

Initiative Petition Circulated

The Andover League of Women Voters is joining with the Massachusetts League and the Committee for a Modern Legislature, as well as a number of other civic organizations, in a drive for an initiative petition that would cut the size of the State Legislature

HS Delivery Is Expected By Dec. 15

Town Manager Richard Bowen said this week that if E. H. Porter Construction Co. continues to work at the present pace, the new senior high school should be completed by Dec. 15, as now scheduled. He said he does not expect the company to comply with the "Substantial completion date" of Nov. 15, but added that much has been done in the past three weeks to close the gap.

James T. Thomson puts his name to an initiative petition being circulated in Andover by the League of Women Voters which is among groups seeking to raise citizen support for cutting the size of the Massachusetts Legislature from 240 to 160 members. League workers Mrs. Thomas Dye and Mrs. Sandra Hazard look on. (Cole) from 240 to 160 members.

The League is already circulating the petition locally and its members will be on duty outside Town Hall on Friday, Oct. 27 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. to give qualified registered voters an opportunity to sign.

The petition specifically calls for at least a one-third reduction in the size of the House of Representatives and the establishing of single member districts.

Following a four-year study of the Legislature, the Massachusetts League also has taken positions in favor of an adequate salary to attract and retain qualified legislators, additional clerical and research staff and opposition to any limit on the length of the session. The organization believes that with a smaller House, there can be realistically high salaries and additional aids to legislators in terms of staff and research facilities.

Commenting on the drive, Mrs. George H. Sherrerd, president of the Andover League said this week, "We are aware that this is a hot issue, and a popular issue, but the basis of the League stand was not hot emotion or popular appeal. It was four years of concentrated objective fact-finding. League

State Sets Pollution Deadline

Greater Lawrence communities, including Andover, were notified Wednesday by the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission that the state agency has decided Andover, Lawrence, Methuen and North Andover must join together in a regional control district to eliminate pollution of the Merrimack River.

The Commission gave the four communities just three months to accept the state's formula for formation of such a district and it ordered that a referendum vote be taken in time to meet this deadline.

The order arrived only shortly before Andover and North Andover officials were to hold another in a series of pollution conferences and it dominated the luncheon discussion, prompting immediate action.

Chairman Philip K. Allen of the Andover Board of Selectmen was asked immediately to call a "fish or cut bait" meeting of elected officials from Lawrence, Methuen, Andover and North Andover for next week in an attempt to resolve the representation issue that has stalemated efforts for the last two years to organize a pollution abatement district under some plan other than that proposed by the Water Resources Commission in sample draft legislation. The state formula for formation and operation of a district facility has previously been rejected as unsatisfactory by representatives of all the communities involved.

The Selectmen of Andover and North Andover made two other on-the-spot decisions:

- First, they will write the Water Resources Commission to request that it advance its deadline for a referendum so that the municipalities which have Town Meetings scheduled for March can put the question on that ballot. Otherwise, special elections will have to be scheduled.

- And secondly, the towns will report to the Commission on a new compromise proposal which was forwarded to Lawrence officials just last week as the latest effort toward agreement on the representation conflict that has stood in

• Action on an article to transfer $14,000 from available funds for interest on funded debt and temporary loans in anticipation of bond issues.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

The Colts put up a tough defense to beat the Browns 6 to 0 in the latest Junior Football League play. The lone touchdown came in the 4th quarter as Bob Farnham returned a Browns punt for 20 yds and Wally Boland scampered 13 yds for the TD.

The Colts had fine blocking from Steve Korho, Alan Robinson, Terry Murphy and Bill Boland. For offense, Scott Martellini, Steve Royal, Jim McEwen and Kevin O'Brien did a fine job to run the Colts record to 4 and 0.

The Browns were hampered by the absence of Buddy Watson who was not playing because of an injury. Fred Connors intercepted a pass and ran to the Colts' 5 yd line, however a fumble on the next play stymied the Browns' bid for a score. For the Ballardvale team Nick Houhoulis and Fred Connors did an outstanding job.

In the second game of the week, Shawsheen Patriots rolled over the West Andover Packers by a score of 19-0. The Patriots scored in the 1st quarter on a 15 yd run by Vinnie Bruno. John Jolie rushed for the extra point. In the 3rd quarter, Vinnie Bruno again ran for a TD. This touchdown drive was highlighted by a 25 yd run by Mike Hanlon. The 3rd touchdown was scored by Jeff Dimmock on a 2 yd plunge.

The Packers were unable to get their offense rolling through Bill O'Reilly and Joe Conlon played well on offense. Dave Sweetser and Tim Devlin turned in fine jobs on defense.

Rep. Hurrell Would Ban Titicut Film

Representative James P. Hurrell (D) North Andover, stated this week "that he is emphatically opposed to any public showing of the controversial movie 'Titicut Follies'."

This was a definite invasion of the privacy of the patients at Bridgewater, stated Hurrell. The rights of incompetent people were not protected and in fact were abused. "After seeing the film I was very surprised that it was allowed to be filmed at a State Hospital. I found it disgusting and in extremely poor taste. I sympathize with the patients, their relatives and friends."

Hurrell also stated he is deeply concerned with approximately 60 percent of footage which was filmed and not used in "Titicut Follies". "I certainly hope that they are not making another movie with this film." I have requested the Attorney General's office to look into this matter immediately.

Hurrell said he issued this statement because of many inquiries by the greater Lawrence residents concerning his position. "I did intend to wait until the Special Commission on Mental Health made its report. I have been attending the hearings and intend to continue. Somebody must be responsible and the public should be informed."

Andover Actress Is Garrett Players Star

An Andover actress, Mrs. Donald V. Porter, will play the feminine lead in the first production of the season by the Garrett Players, "Pool's Paradise", which will be staged Nov. 3, 4 and 5 in Turn Hall, Lawrence.

Mrs. Porter, who was born and raised in England, gained acting and singing experience in theatricals and drama competitions in that country. She also toured Devon, Dorset and Somerset with The Jestors Repertory Co.

Associated with the Garrett Players for the past two years, she has appeared in "See How They Run," "Mary, Mary" and "The Mousetrap". Most recently, she played a role in a one-act play, "Impromptu" by Tad Mosel, which was performed by the Garrett Players at Merrimack College under sponsorship of the student orientation committee.

Mrs. Porter has lived in Andover for the past nine years and makes her home with her husband and three children at 135 Chestnut St.

The play in which she stars is a British comedy about the same characters featured in Philip King's previous play, "See How They Run."

The plot revolves around a former actress with Bohemian tendencies who is married to an ultra-conservative English minister. Complicating their lives are a Cockney maid with a talent for interference, her slow-witted, blundering boyfriend, and a determined spinster who can't get it through her head that the minister married the actress instead of her. Three of these characters are betting on the English Football Pools for high stakes, and searching frantically for the misplaced winning ticket, all the while trying to keep their gambling a secret from the other two. Into the midst of this confusion come a dignified bishop and a timid visiting minister who can't understand the crazy goings-on. They all combine to make "Pool's Paradise" a frothy concoction that bubbles along at a very fast pace.

Other members of the cast are Richard Wakeley, Miss Jay Rand, William Johnson, Mrs. Albert Proctor and John Timmons. The play is under the direction of John B. Cote.

Members of the production's technical crew are John Timmons, production manager; Barbara Janison, Shirley Marsden, Joyce Wilson, Kathy O'Brien and Julie Arsenault, set construction; Vincent Bernard and Julie Arsenault, lighting; Barbara Bolt, prompter.

"Pool's Paradise" will be staged at Turn Hall, 44 Park St., Lawrence. Curtain time will be 8:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3 and 4, and 6:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 5.

Townsmen On New Paper Next Week

Commencing with next week's issue, the TOWNSMAN will be printed on a specially fabricated stock designed for offset reproduction. Great Northern "O" is a white offset paper designed to produce greater fidelity in the reproduction of photographs or half-tones, as they are known in the printing business, and sharper definition of type.

For several months, due to a series of factors, image reproduction in the TOWNSMAN has not been up to the high standards we strive to maintain. Following discussions with the printers, a decision has been made to join other top-quality weekly newspapers in this area who have been using Great Northern "O" for more than a year. Among the papers now printed on this stock are: The Concord Journal, The Lexington Minuteman, The Bedford Minuteman, The Wayland-Weston Town Crier and others.

Five Breaks Investigated By Officers

Police are looking for the thief or thieves who entered three public schools, a private school and a private home here within a span of four days.

The first of the series of breaks was reported by Pike School at 8:20 a.m. on Oct. 20. Two cameras valued at $130, six microscopes, $35 worth of mercury and $12 in cash were reported taken.

Since there was no sign of forced entry, it appears someone entered the upper school while the janitor was cleaning another building. A school employee reported hearing someone run up the steps about 7 p.m., but it was assumed to be a student coming back for something forgotten.

A window was broken at Central School and entrance gained over the weekend to administrative offices of the school department. The thief discarded two flashlight batteries and took two fresh ones from a storage cabinet, along with two screwdrivers.

At Stowe School a window was broken and two padlocks forced to open a storeroom. Missing: 90¢ in cash from a teacher's desk.

A total of $25 in cash and two magic markers were taken from Andover Junior High School where police have been unable to determine how the building was entered. The money was taken from the desk in a locked office.

Following the report of these breaks, police were also called in to investigate the theft of $220 from the home of Granville Cutler at 99 Shawsheen Rd. Cutler said he left his home at 4:30 p.m. on Oct. 23 and returned about four hours later to discover that his bedroom had been ransacked along with drawers in other rooms of the house. Also missing: a coat and a $25 portable radio.

There is evidence to suggest that the school breaks and the housebreak were the work of the same thief, probably someone experienced.

Children Advised: Take Off With Books

"Take Off With Books" is the theme for National Children's Book Week, Oct. 29 to Nov. 4. A special feature of the observance this year is a color film, THE LIVELY ART OF PICTURE BOOKS, to be presented for adults; mothers, fathers, grandparents, educators, on Thursday, Nov. 2 in the children's room at 7:30 p.m.

John Langstaff the host and narrator of THE LIVELY ART is the author of Frog Went A-Courting and other prize-winners. He interviews Barbara Cooney, Robert McCloskey (who does not know his MAKE WAY FOR DUCKLINGS?) and Maurice Sendak, all famous for their children's picture books.

Other attractions in the children's room are displays of lovely new books for all ages of children, and lists of books for giving to children - why not put some of these books under the Christmas tree in 1967?

Film Program

The film program for the school-age starts Thursday, November 2 at 3:30 p.m. in the library. Boys and girls are invited to the Children's Room, no tickets are required. First show includes "A scrap of paper and a piece of string," and "Tale of Custard the Dragon," and "Anatole."

This is the first of the new series of monthly films for children of school age. Next program is scheduled for December 7th.

A lost-and-found tree has sprouted in the Children's Room next to the circulation desk. Check it over for odd mittens and other articles to see if something of yours is there.

Ghostly Story Hour

Story hour in the Children's Room at Memorial Hall Library October 26 at 3:30 will be a ghostly affair as part of the Halloween scene. Miss Elizabeth Russell will tell Ralph Boggs' The Tinker and the Ghost and Elizabeth Sechrist's The Giant Ghost from her book HEIGH-HO FOR HALLOWEEN. School-age girls and boys are invited to come and shudder at 3:30 after school.

School Visitors

Eighth and ninth graders of Pike School visited Memorial Hall Library to become acquainted with the reference collection and the catalog. They used the Readers Guide to Periodical Literature, specialized encyclopedias and reference sets, almanacs (for current compilations of facts) and they investigated topics from atoms to the United Nations. They saw the microfilm reader and how to use it. The library has expanded the years covered by microfilm of the New York Times so that the Depression and the 1960 national election are now available.

UN Displays

Books on the varied work of the UN are on display in the adult and children's departments. Posters and large photographs show UNESCO's work with children around the world. The display is located on the main floor and will continue through October.

In A Word . . .

Creosote

When the oily liquid we call "creosote" was first distilled from beechwood tar more than a century ago, it was used, for the most part, externally on the skin as an antiseptic and disinfectant.

For this reason it was given the name "creosote", coined from 2 Greek words—kreo meaning "flesh," and soter for "saver" or "saviour". The term was intended to connote that creosote was a "skin saviour."

Ability Grouping

School Committeeman Richard Katz has come out in support of a sensible proposal from Donald D. Dunn, physical education director for the public schools, that students be grouped for secondary school physical education classes according to ability (and hopefully, interest) rather than rigidly scheduled by grades or ages.

Ability groupings are nothing new in education, so the proposal is too late to be progressive. But it is in keeping with the accelerated trend of the local public school system toward the use of yardsticks other than age in the educational process.

This particular proposal has special merit. Over the years since physical education was first written into public school curriculum, the programs and activities associated with it have been met with varying degrees of enthusiasm by students forced to participate. Too many boys and girls have endured physical education classes as a necessary evil; and too many physical education classes have tended to produce athletes for competition rather than young adults prepared with the knowledge of how to keep fit and withstand the rigors of later life.

As Dr. Katz points out, there are distinct advantages to homogenous grouping of physical education students: the child learns at a pace suited to the individual which eliminates the frustration, self dissatisfaction and embarrassment that can come from mis-matched competition; it reduces discipline problems; and motivates the student who is spurred on by his ability to succeed when competing with those achieving at his own level.

At the same time, as the committeeman points out, the superior student is freed to work in a class where he can be challenged to the limit of his physical capability.

The whole idea is one further way to shape public school education to the individual, instead of the other way around.

Halloween

The West Andover Community Assn. is to be congratulated for doing something about Halloween.

Whether or not the parties its members have planned for children and young people in that part of town will curb gimme, gimme, gimme activity there remains to be seen, but at least the association is trying to put a little fun back into one of the most commercialized "holidays" inflicted on the public.

It was good news to read this week that one spunky Lawrence resident has taken the matter into her own hands, posting a sign that makes it known she will supply treats for children in her immediate neighborhood and that neighborhood only. She said she was sick of handing out candy to hordes of 100 to 200 anonymous Halloweeners.

Some of the same sort of resolution in Andover might cut into the numbers of youngsters who are permitted to roam far afield, stuffing shopping bags with enough candy to keep them supplied until time for the arrival of the Easter Bunny!

Operation Morale

Do you know a serviceman who is with our troops in Vietnam? Add his name to the TOWNSMAN'S Operation Morale list so that he will be among those to receive holiday mail from interested friends and neighbors.

Remember, the post office department wants overseas mail to servicemen on its way by mid-November. Lengthen the list in time for the Oct. 26 issue.

Down the Years

75 Years Ago — October, 1892
James P. Butterfield has finished harvesting his annual crop of cranberries and they were of an extra fine quality. He had 500 bushels.

Through the activity of Rev. George W. Clough, the interior of the Baptist Church has almost been transformed. The walls have been retinted, which with the new organ, already completely paid for, makes a cosy church home.

Geo. W. Foster Esq. has purchased the house on Chestnut Street so long the home of his father. It will be occupied by C. G. Hussey of Frye Village.

Postmaster Marland tells us that the six months receipts which he has figured up for the post office, with the same standard for the coming six months, give assurance of free delivery within another year. Keep on buying stamps, my friend!

The Prince of Wales showed his contempt for the properties of his position by not only absenting himself from the funeral for Lord Tennyson, but by taking the time for a shooting excursion. When is this royal scion going "to turn over a new leaf" and emulate the virtues of his lamented father and his exemplary mother.

50 Years Ago — October, 1917

Joseph Stack of Pearson Street and Joseph Daly, a member of the mail delivery force, left Monday for Boston. They had previously enlisted in the Coast Artillery.

When doing your fall cleaning, remember a resident of your own town with your rags, papers etc. instead of selling to outsiders. H. Krinsky of 69 Park Street will be glad to call if you send him a card.

After a long absence from his native town, Mr. Edwin B. Smith, son of the former South Church pastor, Rev. Charles Smith, coming in auto from New York, is spending a few days at the Phillips Inn. He is the last of his family; the father died thirty years ago this month.

25 Years Ago — October, 1942

Robert L. Bissett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan M. Bisset of 98 N. Main Street, has received the two highest honors which Tufts College can bestow on an undergraduate, being elected to Phi Beta Kappa and receiving the scholarship awarded by the Class of 1882.

Warren Lewis of Lowell Street and Gerard Twomey of Haverhill Street have been pledged to Chi Phi fraternity at Amherst College.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Butler, formerly of Lowell Street, have taken up residence in Andover again and are living on Main Street.

10 Years Ago — October, 1957

Sidney P. White, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, will seek re-election next March.

Although public school absenteeism continued at about 17 percent Wednesday morning, school officials were hopeful that the peak (for Asian flu) has been reached.

Calvin E. Metcalf, 375 S. Main St., has been hired by the Board of Public Works as office manager. He was associated with American Woolen Co. in the cost department for 28 years.

Deanie Hamburg, who in private life is Mrs. Charles Hamburg, of Lowell Street will be seen in the leading role of Alma Winemiller in the Starlight players production of Tennessee Williams "Summer and Smoke."

Miss Delight Wilson, 9 Avon St., finished her duties as secretary at the Board of Public Works office last weekend.

Elmer Peterson of Greenwood Road has been elected to serve on the executive committee of the Essex County Poultry Assn.

She went on to say, that the drive "has to do with the structure of the legislature, not with feelings about legislators." "What we are working for," she said, "is a stronger legislature."

AYC SEEKS

This past summer a committee, named by the Board of Selectmen to study the long-term recreational needs of the town, submitted a report recommending a family type YMCA as the first immediate need of the community. The Lawrence YMCA was promptly requested by the Selectmen to study the feasibility of a campaign for funds to construct a modern building. These developments were factors in the AYC directors decision to advance the date for consideration of YMCA affiliation, since they were coupled with impressive evidence of a revitalizing of the AYC organization and program in the first month of operation under YMCA leadership, Harrison said.

HS DELIVERY

At its last meeting the school's building committee gave Porter a four-week extension beyond the due-date specified in the construction contract, releasing the company responsibility for a $100-a-day penalty between, Aug. 1, the original delivery date, and Aug. 29. The extension is worth about $2800 to the contractor.

Porter will still owe penalty payments for the period between Sept. 1 and Dec. 15, however.

Andover Education Assn. has scheduled its annual Professional Night for Nov. 6 at Andover High School. Dinner will be served.

On the program will be Sen. Kevin Harrington, majority leader for the State Senate and author of the Willis-Harrington education bill; William Hebert, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Education Assn. and Mrs. Freyda Seigal, guidance consultant for public elementary schools in Lexington, Mass.

James Reilly, an employee of Shawheen Motor Mart on Haverhill St., told police Friday that he looked out a window of the garage that afternoon to observe someone driving off with his car.

Reilly said the car was parked in front of the garage with the keys inside. He chased after the thief and observed a second car answer to a horn signal and join with the stolen car to leave the scene.

Construction of the new Bancroft reservoir will be completed by Dec. 1, Town Manager Richard Bowen said this week.

Valley Oil Co. has been given Board of Appeals approval for plans to construct a service station at 202 Andover St. to replace an existing station. The location is in the general industrial zone.

Also approved: a variance to permit location of the station within 10 feet of the westerly lot line. Side-lot lines will remain the same. The decision was granted unanimously, subject to the condition that the disposal of refuse must be limited to the use of household-type incinerator or a similar device and that open burning of tires and wastes from automobiles is prohibited.

The Central Merrimack Valley Regional Planning Commission will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in district offices at 477 Essex St., Lawrence.

The Commission meeting scheduled for Oct. 19 was adjourned for lack of a quorum.

Approval for revised specifications for West Andover elementary school construction have been received by Supt. Edward I. Erickson from William D. Black, chief specialist of the Massachusetts School Building Assistance Commission.

Preliminary plans are the next step.

Plans for added facilities in that end of town were revised at the last special Town Meeting when voters approved a proposal to add a 24-room wing to the present school rather than construct a new school in a separate location.

The Board of Selectmen has restricted travel on County and Gould Roads to vehicles weighing less than 10 tons in order to restrict the movement of heavy gravel trucks on these narrow streets.

As of Oct. 23, the tax collector's office had recorded collection of $1,220,793 in property taxes from a commitment of $3,990,000. Large returns from banks collecting taxes with mortgage payments and from industrial companies are expected to improve the picture substantially by Nov. 1 the tax deadline.

Of the $168,248 in personal property taxes committed, the town has collected $22,515.

the way of a district approach to pollution abatement thus far.

This proposal, drawn by John J. Monteiro, chairman of the North Andover delegation to the Greater Lawrence Pollution Abatement Study Committee, would give Lawrence one more representative on the district governing board than the other communities. A provision in draft legislation requiring two-thirds approval of all significant issues would, however, prevent the neighboring city from pushing through any matter that did not have support from either Andover or North Andover board members.

In total, the proposal reads as follows:

"The commission shall consist of: (a) Two persons resident of and representing each member city and town, and (b) an additional person resident of and representing each city and town having a resident population of more than 50,000 persons as determined by the most recent federal decennial census. Commission members shall be appointed for three year terms by the appointing authority of each city and town and shall serve until their successors are appointed and qualified. Initially, the City of Lawrence shall appoint one person for a term of three years, one person for a term of two years and one person for a term of one year; the Towns of Methuen and Andover each shall appoint one person for a term of two years and one person for a term of one year; and the Town of North Andover shall appoint one person for a term of three years and one person for a term of two years. Thereafter, all appointments shall be for terms of three years. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term."

If a compromise agreement is not reached next week, Andover and North Andover Selectmen have agreed that they will set about to draft legislation for creation of a two-town pollution control district. The Andover board is already on record as ready to present some form of pollution measure to voters this coming March, even if it has to go it alone in building a filtration facility.

Christmas Garland House Tour Is Nov. 25

The Andover Garden Club released this week details of plans for its annual house tour which is to be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 25. Five homes will be open to the public and decorated for the holidays in keeping with the theme of "A Christmas Garland."

Tickets are available from members of the club and proceeds of the tour will support the organization's conservation and civic beautification projects.

An outline of the tour follows: "The Charm of Period" - home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherwood, Salem St., had its beginning as a one room, one story farm house about 260 years ago. The house has an oak frame, beamed ceiling, two large fireplaces, old wide board floors, early doors, and early hardware. The former shed and barn have been converted to a bedroom wing. Hand split shakes have been used on the roof, and a cobblestone driveway adds to its charm.

"The Appeal of Restoration" - home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Adamsky, South Main St., is one of the best examples of Colonial architecture in Andover, 1815 Federal. It has one of the largest and oldest oak trees in Essex County. Reproductions of wall-papers found in houses of that period have been used throughout.

"The Attraction of the Eclectic" - home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rossig, Chestnut St., is a modern, liveable Garrison, transformed to a New England Colonial with the useage of restored and copies of antiques by the owner expressing the merging of interesting work of the past into the present. The owners work-shop will also be open as part of the tour.

"The Expression of Elegance" - home of Miss Margaret Curran, School St., showing formal expression with French influence in furniture and color.

"The Vigor of the Contemporary" - Phillips Academy Dormitory, Stearns House, off Chapel Ave., named in honor of a former Headmaster Alfred E. Stearns, Home of House Masters Mr. and Mrs. James H. Couch and Mr. and Mrs. Edmond E. Hammond Jr. The student common room will be open.

"The Pleasure of Hospitality" - The Underwood Room at Phillips Academy will be the setting for tour hospitality. Tomato Bisque, cheese and crackers, coffee, tea, and cakes will be served throughout the day. A Boutique and Juniors Shoppe with holiday gifts, breads, and decorations made by members will also be available.

Former Teacher Entertained

Miss Catherine B. Danahy, who retired as a teacher at Shawsheen School at the end of the last term, was honored by former co-workers at a dinner held Friday at the Red Tavern in Methuen.

An original poem, "A Tribute to Mrs. Danahy" was read and gifts and a corsage presented. Seated at the head table with Mrs. Danahy were Miss Anne Harnedy, retired principal of Shawsheen School, Miss Mary Leary, Mrs. Sally Donovan, and Mrs. Margaret Dowd.

Other friends who honored her on this occasion were: Mrs. Lillian Winn, Mrs. Isabel Chlebowski, Mrs. Florence Daly, Miss Polly Breck, Mrs. Grace Cheyne, Mrs. Mae Michalski, Mrs. Rita Arsenault, Mrs. Josephine Leonardi, Miss Martha Howe, Miss Florence McCarthy, Mrs. Virginia Garland, Miss Eleanor Finnegan, Miss Kathleen Doyle, Mrs. Pauline Durgin, Mrs. Madeline Christopher, Mrs. Jacqueline McGovern, Mrs. Frances St. Germain and Mrs. Margaret Fingleton.

Beauty

By Mary

Brushing the hair does a lot more than whisk the dust out of it. Of course it does that, along with removing discarded skin and any residue that may remain from sprays or lotions. It's also a stimulant to the oil glands, a relaxer for the whole system, a gentle method of combing and polishing the whole head of hair. So, when you brush, brush each strand down to the very end, so that the oil from the scalp glasses the entire strand. How often you brush depends partly on your hair. Most people should brush every day. Don't skimp on the quality of your brush. A good one lasts for years! We at CAPITO HAIR STYLISTS, 2 Riverina Rd., Shawsheen-Andover use the finest quality in hairbrushes as well as beauty aids. Everything here is first quality. Mrs. William Cronin

Cronin - Weigl

Miss Margaret Ann Weigl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Weigl of Pittsburgh, Pa., became the bride of William Cronin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cronin of 9 Elm Ct., on Oct. 7 in Perryville, Pa. Rev. Robert Boyle officiated at the ceremony at St. Teresa's Church.

The new Mrs. Cronin was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of satin peau de soie, with a matching crown and a veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Patrick Bailey of Tempe, Ariz., served as matron of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Fred Pack of Cleveland, Ohio and Miss Sylvia Seebacher of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The attendant's Empire-waisted gowns had bodices of powder blue satin and skirts of navy velvet. Their headpieces were powder blue satin Dior bows and they carried Colonial bouquets of white pompons and pink roses.

Sam D'Angelo of Atlanta, Ga., was best man. Ushering at the service were Leo Cronin, brother of the bridegroom, and George Weigl, brother of the bride.

A reception dinner at the Highland Country Club of Westview, Pa., followed the wedding.

The former Miss Weigl was graduated from the College of St. Catherine in St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Cronin, who is a lieutenant in the U. S. Army Reserve, received his degree in hotel restaurant management from the University of Massachusetts.

The couple's wedding trip will be their drive to Denver, Colo., where Mr. Cronin is food field representative for the J. C. Penney Co., Inc.

Home Of The "Ranges"

It's the year of "The Happening" in Frigidaire appliances and you will find the most complete line of these beautiful new refrigerators, ranges, washers, dryers and dishwashers, as well as built-in ovens and surface units at Dalrymple Oil Company, 244 Broadway in Lawrence. Dalrymple is the oldest Frigidaire dealer in New England.

The "big happening" in electric ranges this year is Frigidaire's electric-clean oven. It actually cleans itself. You just set the controls and enjoy the ultimate in oven cleaning convenience. Other models feature Teflon lined oven panels that you simply wash at the sink, removable oven doors, and Frigidaire's Pull 'N' Clean Oven that you clean standing up.

The revolutionary Food-Life Preserver refrigerator by Frigidaire is on display now at Dalrymple and it features every food-keeping convenience you've ever dreamed of. There are three separately sealed food storage zones - a new moist-cold zone, a quick-chill zone and a frost-proof freezer zone. You can keep foods fresh days without wrapping.

If you are in the market for a new washer, Dalrymple can show you the new Frigidaire Jet Action Washer, designed to solve today's complicated washing problems. If you need a dryer, a dishwasher or the popular built-in units, you'll find the model you want at Dalrymple.

Dalrymple Oil Company is also one of the largest suppliers of home heating oils, industrial oils and heating equipment in the Greater Lawrence area and one of the oldest heating and ventilating companies in the entire Merrimack Valley. They specialize in complete heating, ventilating, electronic air cleaning and humidifying systems, by Carrier and other top names. If you wish to have an estimate on heating and ventilating, at no obligation, call Dalrymple any time and they will perform a free home survey.

For information or oil delivery, including convenient 24-hour service, call Dalrymple Oil Company at 683-2455. Open Tuesdays and Fridays until nine.

REPRESENTATIVE PAUL W. CRONIN of Andover the victor in a special election earlier this month to fill a 12th District vacancy in the Massachusetts House, was sworn in Oct. 18 in the Governor's Council chambers at the State House by Lt. Gov. Francis W. Sargent. Later in the day, Rep. Cronin was introduced to other representatives from the Speaker's rostrum. Observing, top left, are his wife, the former Kathleen Sears, Philip K. Allen, chairman of the Andover Board of Selectmen, the two Cronin children and other supporters.

In making the announcement Batal said, "We are adding a new dimension of Chamber service to Greater Lawrence. The human problems of urban areas has been brought to the forefront in a forceful way this Summer. We would be naive to think these problems exist in other communities and not our own."

"It is our firm belief that the business community has the responsibility to become involved in the human problems of our people."

"We have impaneled an impressive group of business, religious and professional people to organize the Socio-Economic Council for the Chamber. Led by Loebel, the following people will meet Friday to get activities underway: Msgr. Joseph P. Burke, Pastor St. Patrick's Church; S.F. Cataudella, D.D.S.; John M. Galber, Jo-Gal Shoe Co.; Robert L. Gable, Craig Systems Inc.; George E. Goodman, Elliott's Inc.; Victor J. Mill Jr., Lawrence Pumps Inc.; Dean K. Webster, H. K. Webster Co. and

William J. Sipsey, Principal Leahy School."

Batal indicated that two groups already functioning, one dealing with vandalism and the other dealing with the problem of alcoholism, would eventually become part of the Council.

"The Chamber will depend heavily on its good relationship with the clergy of Greater Lawrence and with social agencies to help identify problem areas and to work out solutions."

Future Of Junior High Issue For Town Officials

Town officials are to hear from consulting architects on Nov. 2 about what it would cost to remodel the present junior high school so that it will meet educational specifications of the school department.

Town Manager Richard Bowen has called a meeting of the Selectmen, School Committee and Finance Committee for that date at 8 p.m. in the auditorium at Central School.

Preliminary plans for the remodeling are now available so that it will be possible to discuss the complexities of scheduling work in a building that is fully occupied for nine months of the year. Certain to be considered also is the possibility of finding a new use for the present building and construction of a new junior high school. Cost estimates for the renovations are expected to be high enough to give fresh impetus to this thought, frequently proposed as an alternative by School Chairman Louis Galbiati. Manager Bowen has said that estimates for the renovations may come in as high as $2 million, or about half what it would cost to build a new school.

If the final decision is to stick with plans for renovation and economies must be made, the school department will have to adjust its educational specifications, Bowen said in discussing his reasons for scheduling the joint conference.

He said he wanted all the boards involved to understand the financial implications now, before plans progress further.
